

CORONAVÍRUS (COVID-19)

Dear clients,

We carefully display the evolution of the COVID-19 pandemic, reviewing and analyzing national and European legislation that is being published with exceptional standards to protect companies and people.

Our legal services continue to operate without interruption, in the Lisbon and Porto offices, adopting additional preventive measures for the welfare of all. All teams have the most advanced technological tools, to guarantee the quickest responses with the requirement and transparency that are Dantas Rodrigues & Associados trademark.

During the period of emergency of public health:

The deadline for holding general meetings of commercial companies, associations or cooperatives has been extended until June 30, 2020;

If you choose telecommuting (work from home), we remember the need for the Employer and the Worker to sign an amendment to the employment contract;

If you choose to temporarily reduce the normal working period or for a certain period of time, the suspension of the employment contract, on the initiative of the company, benefits from the reimbursements of the Layoff;

With regard to absences for assistance to family members, those arising from the follow-up of prophylactic isolation for 14 days by a child or other dependent workers on account of others, are motivated by situations of serious risk to health;

We will be focused and always available.
